In the flipped classroom, students can watch video lectures at home at their own pace, and they may also communicate with peers and/or their teacher in an online platform. In the classroom, concept engagement takes place in small groups under the teacher's guidance and direction.

By participating in the online course you will ...

- ✓ Learn how to use the flipped classroom model in a variety of ways.
- ✓ Learn how to make narrated PowerPoint presentations and free screen capture videos that can be hosted on the Web and/or downloaded for smart phone/tablet computer use.
- ✓ Experience learning in an online environment.

California University of Pennsylvania has been ranked among the nation's best online schools by www.guidetoonlineschools.com.

Please note: This course is for information only; no college credit or Act 48 hours are offered. However, you will receive an online certificate if you have successfully completed the course.

For more information on the Flipped Classroom - Strategies and Tips course, contact Dr. Joseph Zisk, Graduate Coordinator Secondary Education, at 724-938-4487 or zisk@calu.edu.
